European Social Innovation Competition

This Competition is launched by the European Commission in memory of Diogo Vasconcelos

The Job Challenge
the second edition

Enterprise and Industry

The European Commission launches the second round of the European Social Innovation Competition, the Job Challenge. Once again we invite all Europeans to come up with innovative solutions to create job opportunities, explore fresh talents and offer new forms of work. To change the world of tomorrow we need your ideas today.

The former edition received 605 entries from all over Europe. 30 semi-finalists were invited to a mentoring workshop to support the development of their ideas. 10 finalists were selected and President Barroso awarded the 3 winners.

This time the 3 best proposals will each be awarded a prize of € 30,000 in May 2014. Of course, not only the winners will benefit from the Competition – all semi-finalist will get a chance to network, increase their visibility and benefit from mentoring support.
